Synopsis:

The stars of this documentary feature film are, on the one hand, the sheep, cows, lambs, pigs,... and, on the other hand, Ramón, Lola and their friends. The former live for the enjoyment of the latter.

The Barbecue is a documentary feature film. It shows the evolutive cycle of life and the parallels between humans and non-humans, the raison d'être of sheep and lambs, how cows are inseminated and separated from their babies immediately at birth, what prominent figures of society think about this.

Why do I eat what I eat? What are chops before they are chops? Do I care? ...
